

The CHSS Faculty Development Series presents:

Motivation and Success: Unpacking the Faculty-Student Dynamic

As much as we want our students to succeed, sometimes we feel as though our hands are tied. Unless they are motivated to do the work and come to class, we know that the likelihood that they will succeed is low. This workshop will unpack the roles and responsibilities of students and faculty pertaining to student motivation and success. It will provide an overview of the literature on the factors that influence student motivation. Faculty will then work together to review case studies based on the real-life experiences of CHSS faculty and students in an effort to identify solutions and share effective practices and lessons learned.

Facilitated by Esther Jordan, Associate Director for Faculty Support, CETL, and Associate Professor of Political Science

Wednesday,
September 20, 2017
10AM

History Center
SO 5074
Light refreshments will be served.

College of Humanities and Social Sciences